THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

NEW WHAMPAO
HARBOUR PROJECT

Work To Be Started Soon At Cost Of $4,000,000

Constituting an important part in the comprehensive reconstruction programme in Kwangtung, mapped out under the supervision of General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan and Chairman of the Military Affairs Commission, a new project to turn Whampao, now a humble and undeveloped harbour some 10 kilometers from Canton, into the most important seaport in South China will soon be executed at a cost of $4,000,000.

The project calls for the construction of a deep harbour at Whampao on the north bank of the Pearl River and the extension of the Canton-Hankow Railway to the new port so as to provide an outlet for native products in Central China. Instead of being shipped to Shanghai for exportation
by the Yangtze River, which takes more time and is more expensive,
as is now the case, the goods will be transported directly to Wham-pao by the Hankow-Canton Railway, which is linked up with other Chinese trunk lines either directly or indirectly.

Formulated by the late Dr. Sun
Yat-sen, the ambitious Whampao
project had been taken up and shelved several times during the last decade on account of financial stringency.

CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS

In 1935, Dr. Lo Wen-kan, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, was appointed by the Kwangtung Provincial Government to head a committee in charge of the harbour construction work. Under his able direction, considerable progress
was achieved within a short period of eight months. After the resignation of Dr. Lo and the outbreak of the Liang-kwang recalcitrant move last June, the work was suspended.

A recent study conducted by the Kwangtung Provincial Government

upon the instructions of General
Chiang, however, revealed that the plan drawn up by Dr. Lo is in some respects unsatisfactory, especially in respect to its budgetary estimates and engineering scheme.
Accordingly, Mr. Tseng Yang-fu, new Mayor of Canton, was instructed by General Chiang to formulate a new project.

MOST SUITABLE MAN

General satisfaction was felt over the appointment, as Mr. Tseng,
who has had profound experience
in directing railway building and harbour construction during the last few years as Reconstruction Commissioner of Che-kiang and later Vice-Minister of Railways, was generally regarded as the most suitable man for this task.

According to the new project
construction work will be carried out in three periods. An initial fund of $4,000,000 has already been appropriated for the work.

The first period will be devoted to the surveying and expropriation
of additional land needed.
The second period will see the completion of the dredging of the river channel and the erection of wharves, godowns, and other houses.

In the third period, modern factories will be established and the Hankow-Canton Railway will be extended from the West station in

JAPANESE CONTROL

Supply Of Electricity
In North China

Tientsin: In accordance with the procedure of the Manchuria
Electric Works, the Hsin Chung Company is planning to control
the supply of electricity in North China.

It may be pointed out that the Manchuria Electric Works, with a capital of Y. 50,000,000, is now in control of all electric works, including telephone and street car services.

With the capital of the Manchuria Electric Works, the Hsin
Chung Company has organized the Sino-Japanese Power Company in Tientsin. The company is planning to buy over the electric
works of Tangshan, Luanzhou, Chinwangtiao, Nantashih, Chongli, Peping and Kaifan in the near future.

New electric plants will be built in Tangshan for the supply of electricity to all the light industries along the Peking-Liaoning Railway.

It is reported that the Tientsin
plant will have a capacity of 100-000 Kw. while the other plants
will have a total capacity of 250-000 Kw.—

JAPANESE FLOUR MILLS

Tientsin: Japanese interests
are planning to build two flour
mills, one in Tientsin and one in Tientsin, each with a capital of $3,000,000.

These mills will handle the export of wheat to Japan.—

KWEIYANG-KUNMING
HIGHWAY

Travelling Time Shortened

KWEICHOW, YUNNAN COME CLOSER

Nanking: Opening another chapter in the history of communications in the southwestern provinces, the Kweiyang-Kunming
highway, measuring a total length
of 800 kilometers, was recently completed.

A satisfactory trial run was made on the new line on recently
when a bus travelled from Kwei-yang to Kunming, capitals of Kweichow and Yunnan respectively, via Chengning, Panhsien, Ping-yi and Sungming. The bus reached its destination, Kunming, after a trip of four days whereas it took 20 days by pack animals and
to complete the whole journey.
However, it is believed that the time can still be shortened to two days, one day to travel from Kunming to Panhsien, a distance of 289.85 kilometers, and another from Panhsien to Kweiyang, a distance of 310.15 kilometers.

TRAFFIC FACILITATED

The completion of the highway
is important not only because it brings the two provinces closer,
but also because it facilitates
through traffic from Yunnan to Changsha as it links with the Hunan-Kweichow highway at Kweiyang.

Construction work on the highway was started simultaneously by both the Yunnan and Kweichow authorities.

As far back as 1926, the section
from Kunming to the Tapan Bridge in Yunnan, a length of 17
kilometers, was first completed.
In 1929, surveying work was started on the Kunming-Pingyi section,
a length of 212 kilometers, following which construction work was begun, and was completed in 1933.

For the construction of this section the Yunnan Provincial Government appropriated $2,000-000, while even a greater amount was secured from various districts.

Simultaneously construction of the section in Kweichow was pushed steadily. The section from Kweiyang to Huangshukuo, west
Kweichow, was first completed
several years ago when General Wang Chia-ieh was chairman of the provincial government. The

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

BOARD OF EDUCATION CRITICISED

"Professedly Christian Colony"

ASSOCIATION OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS NEEDED

By
"Scrutator"

That this is a Christian Colony no one will deny, and so the fact that there is no Christian religious education in the senior Government-provided school is not a little surprising. Biblical knowledge there certainly is, conducted on a syllabus for examination purposes, and taught as a regular subject of the school curriculum by indiscriminately selected teachers. While this may satisfy the Board of Education it most assuredly fails to meet with the approval of the Christian community and the Church leaders. This is, to use the old phrase, a very "vexed question."

In Britain, various answers have been made by different local authorities, but the whole matter is one which lies at the very root of education itself, and unless it is understood as fundamental by the local Board, the situation at the Central British School cannot be remedied effectively. The majority of British children in the Colony are educated there, and if their parents and guardians were asked whether they wished their children to receive a Christian education or a pagan one, the assumption of the Board that a pagan one is desirable "could most certainly be disproved."

The present attitude of the Board may be defined briefly: they propose to give instruction on the Bible as literature, history, and as "philosophy," whatever the latter means, and to have nothing whatever to do with specifically religious teaching. It is an easy way out of the difficulty, but one which belies the fundamental ideals of modern educational science.

FALSE IDEAS

There are two false ideas which have been for more than a hundred years the cause of considerable mischief in the teaching of children: the first is epitomised in the attitude which says that if an individual possesses a knowledge of a subject he will be able to teach that subject without any formal training in educational methods; and the other is that put forward by many biased supporters of some particular method of teaching, that once on individual masters a method he can use it to teach any subject under the sun from religion to domestic science. But to be effective in the teaching of any subject a teacher must possess a thorough knowledge of that subject, an adequate method of teaching it, and what is perhaps fundamentally important, he must be convinced of the value of that particular subject in the preparation of a child for a complete life.

WHAT IS REQUIRED

This is especially true of the teaching of religion, and of Biblical instruction. Professor Soares has written: "We can only educate young people in our own religion."

not in some common denominator of everybody's religion." Another American, Professor H. H. Home, has put it thus: "What we need in the American public schools is not the teacher of religion, but the religious teacher." Indeed, educationists are coming to agree more and more with Professor Mercall, who stated in his address to the Conference on New Ideals in Education, which was held at Oxford in 1930, that "the training of the child in religion is becoming in the minds of all who are concerned for religion, part and parcel, nay, the whole of the educational process."

This ideal is further emphasised in Prof. J. J. Findlay's great book "The Foundations of Education" where he argues that "the aim of schooling, in all its occasions and pursuits is to help the pupils to see themselves and their neighbours in the light of the Universal," and he therefore speaks of the teacher as "a man in touch with the infinite."

ASSOCIATION OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS

If education is to be true and complete it must not be separated from religion, nor must religion ever be separated from education, both are concerned with life. Education, according to Professor Findlay, is "the nurture of the human spirit." Dr. L. P. Jacks has called it "the moral equivalent of war," but it is so, only when it is truly social and not merely academic, when it is truly Christian and not pagan!

To attain this great ideal even in part, there must be a much closer and more intelligent association between parents and teachers than that which exists in this Colony at present. America and Austria are leading the way in the formation of such associations, and

Britain is following, but she is very far behind. The time is ripe for such an association to be formed in Hong Kong and Kowloon. No effective development of true education, which is religious, can be arrived at, until parent and teacher, employer and purveyor of amusements, minister and church member, all realise that their responsibility for child education in the community is a united one.

LOCAL NEED

It is impossible to go into details of a plan here, but exploration of local possibilities is open to everybody. In the United States where education and religion have been completely separated with very drastic social results, community councils of education are being formed to deal with the situation, and in many cases these councils are set up to deal specifically with the co-ordination of religion and education. The example might well be followed here; the need is certainly great!

It is our duty to help children to understand themselves, their neighbours, and God. The primary purpose of a Christian education is not just to hand on a system of religion and dogma, but to create a new world. Is that the ideal which is before the Board of Education? Is that the ideal which is held by everyone in this professedly Christian Colony? It seems incredible, and indeed we have still to see proof of that in the simplest and least adequate way, by seeing introduced into the curriculum of the Central British School a system whereby not merely secular instruction in Biblical knowledge will be given to British children, but one where true religious education, as defined above, will have a real and honoured place.

This can be done. The teaching personnel is available; its offer has only to be accepted.

DR. F. W. NORWOOD'S

Challenge To Opponents

Dr. F. W. Norwood, formerly pastor of the City Temple for 17 years, disclosed at Dorchester recently, in reply to a recent accusation by an interrupter at a Westcliff service of having no faith in the divinity of Christ, that every sermon which he had preached at the City Temple was taken down in shorthand. If any statements could be discovered which would substantiate the untrue and unfair statements made about him, he would be prepared to retire at once.

"ARE SIN, DISEASE AND DEATH REAL?"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches tomorrow, October 11, will be "Are sin, disease, and death real?"

The Golden Text will be "Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you." (James 4:7,8.)

Amongst others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. For, Brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. Owe no man anything, but to love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law."

(Galatians 5:1,13,14. 6:1,2,9. Romans 13:8,10.)
The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook: "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"The divine Love, which makes harmless the poisonous viper, which delivered men from the boiling oil, from the fiery furnace, from the jaws of the lion, can heal the sick in every age and triumph over sin and death. It crowned the demonstrations of Jesus with unsurpassed power and love. But the same 'Mind' which was also in Christ Jesus must always accompany the letter of Science in order to confirm and repeat the ancient demonstrations of prophets and apostles. That those wonders are not more commonly repeated to-day, arises not so much from lack of desire as from lack of spiritual growth. Truth has no consciousness of error, Love has no sense of hatred. Life has no partnership with death. Truth, Life, and Love are a law of annihilation to everything unlike themselves, because they declare nothing except God. Sickness, sin and death are not the fruits of Life. They are in harmonies which Truth destroys. The power of Christian Science and divine Love is omnipotent. It is indeed adequate to unclasp the hold and to destroy disease, sin, and death. To infinite, ever-present Love, all is love, and there is no error, no sin, sickness, nor death."

"THE TEXAS RANGERS"

The early post-reconstruction
Southwest, with its ever-present
Indian dangers and its roaming
outlaws, lives again on the screens
of the Alhambra and Queen's Theatres where King Vidor's epic picture "The Texas Rangers" is being shown to-day.

A story as dramatic and thrill-filled as its background is sweeping "The Texas Rangers" outlines
the work of the band of fearless
men who brought order to the Lone Star State. Fred MacMurray
and Jack Oakie, cast in leading roles, appear as outlaws who join the Rangers, taking part in the daily work of daring undertaken
by America's first organization of State Peace Officers.

The Rangers took oath on enlisting, to subdue Indians, kill or capture murderers, break up gangs of brigands and cattle
thieves, and "make Texas" a reasonably safe place in which to live.

The two characters, in the course of the plot have a leading part in the final great battle of the Rangers with hostile Indians
which led to subduing of the marauding tribes. Filmed by Vidor with a cast including several hundred braves and as many Rangers, the scene is one of the most thrilling ever thrown on a screen.

Jean Parker, the young woman who charmed America in "Little Women" and "Sequoia" is perfectly cast in the leading feminine romantic role, as the daughter of the rugged leader of the Ranger
post which MacMurray and Oakie
join.

Oakie's humour, the romance of Miss Parker and MacMurray, and songs, recorded by MacMurray, Oakie, the Rangers and others,
make "The Texas Rangers" finely balanced entertainment, set
against a historically accurate,
dramatic background.

Edward Ellis is splendid as the leader of the Ranger unit; Bennie Bartlett, appearing as the son of pioneer parents who are killed by Indians, does a good bit of child acting.

"LAST OF THE PAGANS"

The haunting fascination of the South Seas; the idyllic lives of the natives; a stirring romance,
played amid the thrills of primitives; these are the elements
caught in an absorbing piece of entertainment, "Last of the Pagans." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's tropic idyll filmed on an uncharted
coral isle in the Pacific.

The new picture, coming to-day
to the Majestic Theatre, has nothing of the travelogue about it,
though it shows in detail the intimate lives of the Polynesian natives. It is a gripping and romantic love story of a boy and a girl in the island paradise; of their separation through the work
of rascally white traders, and their triumphant reunion.

Set against a tapestry of picturesque native dances, glorious tropic sunsets, blue lagoons and some of the most gorgeous scenic details ever photographed, John Yilliers Farrow's story was deftly directed, with its native cast, by Richard Thorpe. There are thrills
a-plenty—the battle between the native hero and the wild boar,

King's New Chef

M. Legros, of Paris, has been appointed Chef to King Edward.
M. Legros has been in the service of leading Parisian families,
and his appointment was made on the recommendation of Sir George Clerk, British Ambassador
in Paris. M. Legros enjoys a high reputation in Parisian Society.

M. Poupart, whom he succeeds, became King George's chef on the death of M. Cedard last December, but when King George died M. Poupart retired on pension and returned to Paris.
He had been second chef at Buckingham Palace for many years, and for some time before
M. Cedard's death was chiefly responsible for the direction of the culinary arrangements at the Palace. Owing to the personal character of the appointment, his retirement on pension became automatic when King George died.

His predecessor, Mr. Cedard, was King George's chef for over forty years, both during his reign and when he was Duke of York and Prince of Wales.

"THINGS TO COME"

Conceived and produced on a grand scale, H. G. Wells' "Things to Come" which is showing at the King's Theatre to-day is the most amazing and the greatest picture ever made. Nothing like it has been seen before and it will set
a new standard for film production the world over.

It is a marvel of technical achievement and an equal triumph
for the author and the producer,
Alexander Korda. Harrowing scenes of warfare, the destruction of the world we know to-day and the reconstruction of an amazing
new one are unfolded with a dramatic impressiveness which marks the picture as an unforgettable experience.

The story opens at Christmas
time in Everytown, a typical prosperous city in 1940. Newspaper placards scream warning messages
of impending war, but the populace carry on their shopping and merrymaking. Suddenly, without warning, the city is bombed and is totally destroyed.

War lingers on until 1970. By then everything is in disorder and a dreaded disease known as wandering sickness spreads. Industrial production is at a standstill, and the people have returned to a primitive mode of life. Sporadic warfare is carried on by ill-equipped bands of men.

Into this ruined city files a man with a new type of aeroplane. He is the chief of the airman, a group of idealists who have founded a colony away from the scene of war and who are determined to put an end to hostilities. A squadron of giant aeroplanes follow and bomb the ruined city
with harmless gas bombs which men take possession of. Everytown send the people to sleep. The airmen begin the work of reconstruction.

Ralph Richardson, Margaretta
Scott and Edward Chapman, the director, W. Cameron Menzies, has treated the immense theme with the touch of a master, and must reap unbounded satisfaction from
the knowledge that he has played a prominent part in making screen
history. If you miss this picture
you will regret it, for its like may not be seen again.

PRINCESS JULIANA'S WEDDING

The wedding of Princess Juliana
and Prince Bernhard is expected to take place at the end of January or the beginning of February.
After the ceremony, which will be held at the Hague, the couple will go to Southern Europe for their honeymoon, and afterwards
will visit the Dutch East Indies
on a three months' tour.

shark and swordfish hunting, and the terrific island typhoon, filmed
at its height as it hurls palm trees
down and razes island buildings.
A cave-in in a potash mine provides another thrill. Delightful native music embellishes the saga of Polynesia.

Mala, the Eskimo actor, plays
the stalwart hero of the new picture.

"Last of the Pagans" tells grippingly the story of a vanishing race. Five months in the making in the tropics, it fully justifies the time and pains, and the long voyage that went into its filming.
The photography of Clyde De Vinna is arresting; beautiful
many of his scenes being veritable paintings in light and shade.

QUEEN MARY "EQUAL OF ANY ART DEALER"

Queen Mary's judgment in purchasing antiques and works of art
was praised recently by the Earl of Athlone, her brother, when he opened the Antique Dealers' Fair
and Exhibition at Grosvenor House, W.

"She knows as much about what is really worth buying as a great many of the art dealers
themselves," he declared.
"My wife (Princess Alice) also has that longing for artistic articles, sometimes of such value
that they are beyond what we can afford."

"I have the greatest difficulty in getting her away from an art dealer's window. She remains there with her nose glued to the glass like a small boy at a tuck shop."

Antiques and works of art of a total value of about £1,000,000 are on view at the exhibition.

INDIAN MERCHANTS DEFRAUDED

Series Of Thefts From Shops

EMPLOYEES SENT TO PRISON

Two brothers employed by Pohnmull Brothers, 99C, Wyndham Street, being hard up, took the advantage of defrauding the company of various goods, given in their charge. Knowing that no receipt would be asked for, they did not deliver the goods. They also removed stamps from a number of letters and sold them to people at West Point.

The men, Lam Ngan, 18, shop foki, and Lam Ping Lung, 19, shop foki, were charged before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Det. Sergt. J. Bentley stated that on Wednesday at 8 p.m. he was called in by Mr. Nagarai, assistant manager of the firm. Enquiries were made and it was found that the second defendant, had not paid the electric light bill ($33.75), and that the electric company had threatened to cut the wires.

The first defendant admitted taking the silk goods, and took the police to the fifth floor of China Building, where the material was found, and also a number of letters with the stamps erased.

Both defendants were employed for the last 14 months. The goods were valued to $133.

First defendant was sentenced to three months' hard labour and second defendant to two and a half months.

ANOTHER CASE

Lau Tong, 22, salesman, was brought before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy, yesterday, for larceny of five pairs of silk stockings, 24 yards of Shanghai silk, four yards of artificial silk and two pieces of mixed crepe, on September 14.

The complainant was Mr. Nanik, manager of Messrs. Chellaram, 8 Pedder Street, ground floor. Det. Sergt. Bentley prosecuted. Defendant was sentenced to one month's hard labour.

HEROIN PILLS CASE

Further Evidence Recorded

Further evidence was heard by Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, in the case in which five Chinese women and a man were charged with the possession of a large quantity of heroin pills at 99C, Leighton Hill Road, first floor. The hearing was adjourned.

Mr. H. A. Taylor, Government Monopoly Analyst, gave evidence of the raid, and stated that he found pink stains on the hands of four of the defendants.

Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor prosecuted, while Mr. M. A. da Silva was for the defence.

With regard to the third and sixth defendants, Mr. Silva submitted there was no case against them, to which Mr. Abbott replied that juries had found persons guilty of possession of dangerous drugs, on the ground that they were found on the premises whether they took part or not in the manufacturing of pills.

At this stage the hearing was adjourned.

OPIUM DIVAN

Lau Tong, unemployed, Wang Yee, married woman and Wang Hel, all of 10, Pak Tai Street, appeared Mr. E. Himsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday on charges of keeping an opium divan, and the possession of opium and heroin. The case was remanded for four days. Bail of $1,000 each was allowed.

HANDBAG THEFT

Shek Chan Chuen, unemployed, was charged before the Kowloon Magistrate, yesterday with the theft of a handbag from a car parked in Granville Road near Nathan Road on Thursday. The complainant was Mrs. C. Mose, of 147, Waterloo Road. The bag contained two pairs of spectacles, two gold pencils, a fountain pen and $20. The defendant was sentenced to a fine of $50 with the alternative of six weeks' hard labour.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY RECALLED

Cook Attacked In Stubbs Road

GRUDGE ALLEGED

Ho Siu Shek, 20, unemployed, and Ho Siu Lum, 21, unemployed, were charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, for assault on Chan San Cheung, cook, employed at 46, Stubbs Road, on September 17 at 11.45 p.m. and the larceny of $3.80 from the complainant.

Both defendants pleaded guilty to the first charge, while first defendant pleaded not guilty to the second charge.

Inspector A. E. Carey stated that the first defendant was employed at 46 Stubbs Road. On July 17, Keung Kee employed as a coolie was caught pilfering and was reported to the master and was dismissed. Before leaving threats were used against the complainant warning him to be careful.

Later the complainant went to town to try and find another coolie, which he did, and returned about 11.45 p.m. They met two men, one of whom was the first defendant, who shone a torch and said "search." The complainant discovered they were not police officers when the first defendant put his arms around him. Holding complainant's neck down, defendant took $3.80 from his pocket and a wrist watch.

Others then beat the complainant. They took him to the side of the road and dropped him about 12 feet down and then ran away.

The coolie who had accompanied the complainant ran away, but was stopped by another man who told him that nothing was wrong as they were "paying off a grudge."

The complainant did not report until the following morning. On September 18, the first defendant was arrested in Spring Garden Lane, and on information received the second defendant was arrested.

On the September 22 the complainant attended an identification parade held at No. 2 Police Station where he pointed out the first defendant.

Both defendants were sentenced six months' hard labour on the first charge and on the second charge the first defendant was sentenced to a further six months' hard labour, while the second defendant was ordered to be banished from the Colony.

ILLICIT STILL

Found In Working Order

Leung Ko, unemployed, of 189, Peiho Street, third floor, was found guilty of unlawfully operating a still, and for the possession of apparatus for the distilling and fermenting of dutiable liquor, before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

Revenue Officer Stephens, said that he had great difficulty in entering the premises.

Defendant was in the act of dismantling the apparatus and there could have been 100 gallons of wine made from the material found there. The daily output was about six gallons.

The defendant was fined $85, or, in default, seven weeks' hard labour.

APPLICATION FOR RE-HEARING

Chan Lai Wo, the school teacher who was discharged at the Kowloon Magistracy last week when he appeared on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a young Chinese girl, was the subject of discussion before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday when Mr. Hin Shing Lo, instructed by Mr. E. S. C. Brooks, gave notice of a re-hearing.

Mr. Leo D'Almada, Sr., appeared for the defence. The application was adjourned for a week.

MONEY STOLEN

Prosecuting, Inspector W. Mair said that about 11.55 a.m. on Thursday, a district watchman was on duty in Queen's Road Central, near Bonham Strand, where a fatal accident had attracted a large crowd. The watchman saw the defendant peeping into the pockets of the onlookers, and cut the complainant's pocket with a razor. The defendant then turned away, and was arrested. CANTON REVOLT AND AFTER

Brochure Issued
REFLECTIONS

In connection with the Double Tenth celebrations to-day, the National Publishers Ltd., proprietors of the "Canton Daily Sun" and "The Canton Truth" have issued an interesting brochure, entitled "Reflections of the Canton Revolt and After" by K. B. Valdivia, Editor-in-Chief of the "Canton Daily Sun" and "The Canton Truth."

The cover of this publication contains a photograph of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, founder of the Chinese Republic, and in the earlier pages is contained a picture of Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

The preface explains that the articles contained in the brochure were written originally as leading articles in the "Canton Daily Sun" and as the demand for copies of the paper in which these articles appeared increased and the copies got almost exhausted, the writer decided to publish them in book form.

The preface continues:—
The world has yet to assess properly and to appreciate fully the great change, that took place in 1911; to admire the struggle of the people of China for freedom and self-assertion in the face of external aggression and internal denegencies; to realise the unique success of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the Father of the Republic, in freeing the people of China—one-fourth of the entire human race—from the thralldom of the anachronistic Manchu monarchy, and leading and guiding them on the path of national salvation and greater glory; and to understand properly Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's undiminished devotion to duty towards his country, towards his Master, the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen and towards the people of China to whose leadership he has so successfully risen in a manner as to bring added glory, power and prestige to his ancient country.

The brochure is illustrated and contains a message from Mr. Hu Han Min.

Capt. Martin thanked Col. Burrows and his Staff, Brigade H. Q. and 20th Battery, for the assistance they had given to the Corps at all times.

Capt. Martin congratulated C.S.M. Moses on the success attending "L" Section of the Corps, and to Bdr. Rees, who was in charge of the newly formed "M" Section. He thanked Capt. Grey, R.M., and his marines for their efforts in training the section.

"My good friend Mr. Champkin," said Capt. Martin, "has presented to our 'A' and 'L' Sections a model gun to be awarded annually to the most highly qualified layer. We value this token of interest in us enormously, and I accept the Champkin Trophy with gratitude."

In conclusion, Capt. Martin said that their reorganisation was complete and he knew that he could count on all members for the same enthusiastic support to Mr. Marshall, their Section Commander, as they had given to the speaker in the past.

COMMANDANT'S SPEECH

Lt-Col. Anderson said, in part:—
Our organization is rather unwieldy. We have very many small units in the Corps, but the duties we are required to fulfil do not allow of any other organization. There is a danger however, I have noticed it creeping in at times and I want to warn you against it, that is the tendency to look upon ourselves merely as a collection of small independent units. I am all for healthy rivalry between units. I am all for each unit cultivating esprit de corps and I like to see each unit trying to make itself the most efficient in the Corps, but you must never forget that you are all members of one big unit, The Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps and when occasion arises I expect you to work as willingly for the Corps as you do for your respective units. By all this I mean the interests of the Corps take precedence to the interests of units in the Corps.

TRAINING SCHOOL

The new training season has opened well. Recruits are coming into all sections of the Battery. Attendances in parade have been very satisfactory. A good start is half the battle. I expect to see this good start maintained. There must be no falling off as the season progresses. Wet weather must not act as a deterrent, however adverse the conditions

BOSSY PEOPLE

There have always been bossy people, and the tribe shows no sign of decreasing and on this famous "Double Tenth" occasion it is pertinent to prosecute comprehensive inquiries into the ways of some of those who have confused "leading" with "bossing". When such people assume public office they are frequently dictatorial, and when they cleverly climb to absolute power they may take one title or another, but when all is said and done, they are dictators.

They have their uses when times of crisis arrive, because they show a capacity for extirpating an evil and settling something presumably better in its place. Mussolini quenched Communism in Italy and set up a strong Government, which did some useful work. At the best, however, a bossy person is a menace to others, and the higher he climbs the more mischief he is likely to do.

In a vigorous article in the Observer Mr. St. John Ervine says that Mr. Bernard Shaw attempts to defend the existence of rampaging dictators, and that because society is founded on intolerance we must persecute even to the death. There are occasions in which Mr. Shaw writes and speaks good sense, but it was not when he advocated the policy just indicated. He is a glutton for Utopias, but though he found Russia under a genuine dictatorship, he was very careful not to live there, but got back as quickly as possible to find refuge under a constitutional monarchy.

After the exposition he gave of the forces that brought Joan of Arc to the stake it is almost unbelievable that he should even seem to hint at persecution. Geniuses are not to be taken seriously when they talk in such fashion. The ultimate fate of people who write and speak in this style is that they come to be regarded as humorists or buffoons.

In ancient Greece, when economic and political difficulties were rampant, someone was appointed to change the laws, deal with debt and land tenure, and, after he had done so, he was to retire into private life. He came to be called a tyrant.

They might be, and some were, rough, wild fellows, but they got things done. These tyrant dynasties rarely lasted beyond two generations. Solon realised the significance of the individual, and set him free in a new way. (Dr. T. R. Glover). Another who succeeded him provided at State cost a living for men crippled in fighting for their country. He was a genial, big, humorous sort of man this Pisistratus, and is now called the greatest statesman that Athens ever produced. If we look into history we find that as Solon set free the individual Athenian and made Athens, so later authority is being gradually substituted for external authority.

Britain stands for civil and religious liberty, and in Palestine at the moment is fighting for the same principle. Any kind of coercion is alien to our nature. The bossy person in political life is doomed to disappointment. Anything less like bossing than the attitude of our present hon-

FAR EASTERN
AFFAIRS

Home Press Comment

London, Oct. 9.
For the first time since 1931 China refused to lick the boots that kicked her and has taken up an attitude of quiet determination, says the "Manchester Guardian," specially drawing attention to Chiang Kai-shek's massing of troops along the Yangtze Valley and presentation of counter-demands on Japan.

After the usual threats the demands have been temporarily withdrawn. Not having gained a single point it would be rash to infer that Japan will now give up her aggressive attitude or that China may not make further concessions, but at least it is possible that China has departed from her former acquiescence. If so, it may prove the turning point in Far Eastern affairs.

Japan's military leaders certainly have to decide whether they are willing to risk a war, concludes the Journal.

Sino-Japanese bonds all round are strengthening in response to the more favourable Far Eastern news.

oured King could not be found in the world. His attitude to the individual is all that is wise and good.

We have before us at the moment the spectacle of other nations suffering from the efforts of different people to win and hold supreme power. Bosses are plentiful, and all have their supporters. Some of the bosses propose to carry their supremacy beyond the limits of their own nation, even to making it world-wide.

In one of his famous Philippics, Cicero describes how a great ruler "had so revolutionised public feeling that partly from fear and partly from acquiescence a State which prided itself upon its freedom had become accustomed to subjection."

Whether it is by brute force or by cunning the ambitious citizen seeks to lord it over others, the danger is the same, but history makes it plain that the bossy fellow in the long issue has his reward, and his fate is more awful than what he meted out to others.

Democracy is not without its perils. Certain political sections show the intolerant and domineering tendency which has never been quite absent from civilisation. The inner circles have generally a specimen of the undesirable clan. In church life there was a "Diotrephes who loveth to have the pre-eminence among us," and even the Apostles disputed who should be the greatest.

Perhaps the most objectionable type is the fellow who domineers his wife and children and makes the domestic atmosphere unbearable. He is a perfect Julius Caesar there, and, like the famous Roman, may come to a miserable end. In his factory, warehouse or office he is probably well served, but also bitterly hated. He gorges, he barks, he bites and springs upon his employees like a wild beast. In social circles he tries to talk down the whole company. Tell it not in Gath, but bosses are found even among ladies, and bossy people are repaid by the continual fear of being sent to Coventry.

Tyrants' terrors keep increasing and their tyranny redoubles.

"There's no arguing with Johnson," said Goldsmith, "for if his pistol misses fire he knocks you down with the butt end of it."

Bossy people have their reward. At the long last they are shunned like the plague. Since they prefer "to rule in hell rather than serve in heaven," their friends have no objection.

COLLAPSE

PATCHY WICKET

Shanghai, Oct. 9.
Shanghai to-day won the 37th Interport cricket match defeating Hong Kong by 217 runs. Since the series began in 1866, Hong Kong have won 18 matches, Shanghai 16, and two have been drawn. Shanghai last won in 1934.

Shanghai continued their innings to-day and carried their overnight score of 119 for six wickets to 190 before they were dismissed. Alec Pearce, the Colony captain, performed well with the ball, capturing six wickets for 77.

Faced with the task of scoring 392 runs for victory, Hong Kong failed on a wicket that was patchy. Before lunch four wickets had fallen for 58 runs. E. F. Fincher, who scored 127 not out in the first innings, failed, completely, being caught in the slips first ball. A. H. Madar was also dismissed for a "duck."

This morning Shanghai continued their second innings with Stokes (37 not out) and Bridge (0 not out). Stokes took his score to 62 when he was caught and bowled by Pearce. Bridge with a single sent up the 150, scored in 145 minutes.

PARKER HITS WICKET

Parker facing Madar, had the misfortune to hit his wicket and made his way back to the pavilion after scoring 24 (185-8-24). Bridge was run out for 22 (190-9-22).

Meston stepped in front of a straight one from Pearce and was given out leg before for a "duck" (190-10-0). Leckie had 5 not out. Shanghai's innings lasted 181 mins.

BRILLIANT CATCH

Hong Kong opened with Garthwaite and Colledge. At 18, Garthwaite was out to a brilliant catch by Stokes low down at second slips off Parker's bowling (18-1-14). Colledge fell a lb.w. victim to Stokes (25-2-8). With his next ball Stokes had Fincher caught by Pat Madar in the slips (25-3-0).

One run was added before Madar had his wicket spread by Parker (26-4-0).

Pearce with a boundary sent up the 50 after 71 minutes play. At lunch interval, Pearce and Nazarin were together, Pearce 58 not out, Nazarin 8 not out.

NAZARIN OUT

Pearce hit Leckie to the boundary to reach his 50 in 97 minutes. Nazarin snicked a ball from Parker and was caught by Pat Madar (94-5-14).

Pearce joined Pearce and with a boundary sent up the 100 scored in 121 minutes. At 118, Pearce was stumped by Bridge off Madar's bowling. He scored 68 with magnificent cutting and driving (118-6-51).

Pearce reached 17 when he was caught and bowled by Madar who held a one-handed catch (119-7-17).

Clegg-Hill did not remain long for he had only scored four when he was caught by Stokes off Madar (123-8-4).

Minu scored 8 and was caught by Booth. He was also a victim to Madar's slow bowling (132-9-8). Hong Kong's innings closed when Lee was caught by Barson off Madar's bowling (175-10-10).

Gosano was undefeated with 33. Madar claimed five wickets for 35 runs.

SINO-JAPANESE
RELATIONSSITUATION DOES NOT JUSTIFY OPTIMISMTokyo Opinion After Nanking Meeting

Tokyo, October 9.
Sino-Japanese negotiations have been saved from collapse as a result of the meeting of Mrs. Kawagoe and General Chiang Kai-shek, but the situation does not justify optimism. This appears to sum up the opinion of Foreign Office circles here following receipt of Mr. Kawagoe's on the meeting.

Officials are now examining the report. It is believed that they insist that the Japanese Ambassador adhere to the original plan of negotiations on broad principles with General Chiang himself despite the apparent objection of the Chinese Government.

JAPANESE PRESS VIEWS

The Japanese press accords a mixed reception to the report from Nanking, but there is a consensus of opinion that the meeting has revealed many difficulties confronting the negotiations which are likely to be very lengthy. Most of the newspapers, however, recognise that General Chiang appears to show considerable enthusiasm for promotion of a satisfactory settlement.

The Nanking correspondent of the "Nichi Nichi" alone dissents from this view, stating that it is clear from General Chiang's attitude that he is trying to delay a settlement in the hope of inducing Soviet Russian, British and the United States' intervention in the negotiations.

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION

Shanghai, Oct. 9.
The negotiations between the Japanese Ambassador and the Chinese Government for readjustment of Sino-Japanese relations—the official resumption was signified by yesterday's meeting between Mr. Kawagoe and General Chiang Kai-shek—will remain in suspension for a further few days until after to-morrow's celebrations of the 25th anniversary of the Chinese Republic.

A distinct atmosphere of optimism has replaced the general gloom which prevailed before the meeting.

It is now practically certain that as soon as the celebrations are over Mr. Kawagoe will resume the negotiations with General Chiang Chun, the Foreign Ministry for settlement of Sino-Japanese differences, thus ending the deadlock which has lasted nearly three weeks during which Sino-Japanese tensions have been acute.

DOUBLE TENTH
CELEBRATIONSGreat Enthusiasm
PrevailsMANY PARTIES
ARRANGED

Owing to the unification of China, the Double Tenth Anniversary, or the Chinese National Day, marking the 25th anniversary of the Chinese Republic, will again be celebrated with greater enthusiasm to-day, not only in the Colony, but in every part of China.

To-day is being observed as a general holiday, and the Chinese national flags are in evidence everywhere. The offices and business firms in the city, as well as the outlying districts are closed, and all schools and colleges have been given a whole day's holiday to their pupils, many of whom will undoubtedly take advantage of this occasion for hiking trips to the different places of interest in the Colony.

AT THE CHINESE CHAMBER

At noon to-day, a tea party reception will be held in the Hall of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce for members and their friends, and it is believed that there will be a number of musical concerts and feasting and dancing parties to-night at the different social centres, schools and colleges.

It is also reported that the staff and undergraduates of the Hong Kong University will gather to-day to commemorate the Double Tenth Anniversary, and that an address by the President of the Students' Union will be followed by a speech by Professor Hsu Ts-shan. The meeting will conclude by all singing the Chinese National Anthem.

IN CANTON

In Canton to-day, the anniversary will be observed as a public holiday, and all Government offices, Kuomintang organs, schools and all the leading shops will be closed. The whole city will be gaily decorated with national flags, banners, floral designs and paper lanterns, etc.

A grand review of troops will be held on the parade ground of the Military and Political Academy at Yung this morning, and General Yu Han-mow, Commander-in-Chief of the Fourth Route Army will take the salute.

The Canton Air Force will also give a big aerial demonstration to-day at the "Tin Ho" Aerodrome, when all available planes will take part.

Invitations have been issued, and a dinner will be given by the Municipal authorities in honour of the invited foreign guests.

Speeches will be delivered by high officials of the Canton Government, the publicity workers of Kwangtung Province, and the representatives of the various organizations.

Stage performances and other forms of amusement will be provided in the Central Park, the Bund and the Ho Tung Park at Roman Island, and in the evening in the Yuet Shau Park and the Inner Harbour at Roman, there will be a big display of fire-works.—Tse.

CHINA ASKS
FOR A CHANCEChiang's Message To
The World

Nanking, Oct. 9.
"China is capable of achieving great deeds by her own efforts, wiping out the destructive forces of militarism, undertaking constructive measures for the welfare of the people, in short capable of setting her own house in order provided she is given a chance to work out her destiny uninterrupted and unembarrassed. This is the chance we want and this chance we must have," says General Chiang Kai-shek in a statement to the world on the eve of the Double Tenth.

The statement declares that Communism is no more a real menace to China. It points out that despite great odds China is forging ahead in the execution of her programme of national reconstruction. It dwells on the great strides in all branches of communication, public health, education and financial reforms, and in other fields it emphasises that China is no longer a disunited country.—Reuter.

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE MEETING

Non-Intervention Policy In Spain

WIDESPREAD INTEREST AROUSED

Soviet Threat To Recede From Agreement

London, October 9. The International Committee for application of agreement regarding non-intervention will meet this afternoon. Widespread interest has been aroused in the meeting by the publication of the Soviet's communication which was handed to the Acting Chairman, Lord Plymouth, bringing to the notice of the Committee allegations of foreign help to the insurgents and declaring that if the violations of agreement are not immediately discontinued the Soviet Government will consider themselves relieved of the obligations which the agreement imposes.

The hope is expressed here that the Committee will not in consequence of the Russian move be deflected from the rules of procedure which it laid down for its conduct and which insist that the information regarding the alleged infractions be submitted only after the Governments sponsoring such complaints had satisfied themselves of the trustworthiness of the evidence on which they were based, and that the information made public should be confined to statements contained in the Committee's agreed communiques.

The "Times," commenting on the situation and while admitting that the work of the Non-Intervention Committee can never be wholly effective, says the policy of non-intervention is nevertheless the only sound policy and this country will stand fast by it.

LABOUR ACTIVITY

The leader of the Labour Parliamentary Party, Mr. Attlee, and Deputy leader, Mr. Greenwood, who on behalf of the Labour Conference had an interview with Mr. Neville Chamberlain yesterday morning to discuss the alleged breaches of the non-intervention pact, returned to Edinburgh last night and reported to the joint meeting of the General Council of Trades Union Congress and executives of the Labour Party and of the Parliamentary Party.

The three bodies sat until midnight and resumed deliberations this morning in order to prepare a report to the full conference which is to be invited to take the decision.

The conference has already passed a resolution approving of the non-intervention policy and, although feeling is running high at Edinburgh, the general impression early this morning was that the decision already recorded would not be reversed.

The "Manchester Guardian" says there is among the delegates considerable distrust of the Russian Government's motives.

FURTHER NOTE

London, Oct. 8. When the Spanish Non-Intervention Committee meets in London to-morrow it will have to discuss a further Soviet note, making charges against Portugal and suggesting an impartial committee of inquiry be sent to the Portuguese frontier, and also that certain members of the committee be appointed to supervise fulfilment of the non-intervention pact.

The note says the importance of the weight of evidence affords the reasonable presumption that Portugal has committed a breach of the non-intervention agreement.

To-morrow's agenda includes a discussion of the two Soviet notes, the Spanish complaints sent to the League of Nations, and the Czechoslovakian question regarding shipments of war materials from non-participating countries, carried in vessels belonging to the signatory powers.

LEAGUE SEATS

Geneva, Oct. 8. The election of China and Latvia, already cabled, was to non-permanent seats on the League Council for three years.

China was elected by 51 votes out of 52.

Three vacancies on the Hague Court of International Justice have been filled, the Assembly electing Mr. Mr. Manley Hudson (America), Mr. Hamarskaöld (Sweden) and Dr. Cheng T'en-hsi (China). The last-mentioned election necessitated a second ballot, as although Dr. Cheng was elected by the Assembly, the Council first voted for the Turkish candidate.

German And French Press Views

London, Oct. 9. The Spanish Non-Intervention Committee is meeting in London to-day in a tense atmosphere.

The German press is unanimous against the Soviet, charging them under phrases such as lying, defamation, distortion of facts and provocation. The general German opinion is that Moscow is desirous of a free hand for open intervention.

The French press tends towards the view that nothing can prevent the fall of the Madrid Government. The Echo de Paris states that Germany, Italy and Portugal are more than willing to assist the overthrow of the workmen's militia, but if Germany, Italy, France and Britain remain calm, order in Europe will not be troubled or the usefulness of non-intervention in Spain overthrown.

MARCH ON MADRID CONTINUES

FURTHER GAINS BY INSURGENTS

Siguenza Captured

(Hong Kong Daily Press' Special)

Burgos, October 9. Official reports state here that the troops of General Franco are continuing their march on Madrid, and have ejected the Red militia in fortified positions in Arriera de Grodos. Other detachments have even captured the village of San Martin, 65 kilometres west of Madrid. The Nationalist forces operating on the Guadarrama front, south-east of Madrid, have captured the town of Siguenza.

It is announced that the Catalan authorities have seized 600 million pesetas in the vaults of the various banks of Barcelona, and that before evacuating San Sebastian, the Red militia removed upwards of one milliard worth of gold and valuables from the banks and private houses.

The Nationalist Provisional Government has decided to create the post of Governor-General of all territories in its possession. This functionary will reside in Valladolid.

INSURGENT SUCCESS

It is officially admitted to-night one of the Government's strongholds, 25 miles north-west of Madrid, the elaborately defended town of Navalperal, has been captured by the insurgent forces pressing towards the capital. Navalperal fell after three days' heavy fighting.

Government troops retired from Navalperal to Las Navas after the rebels had shelled and bombed the former throughout the night.

The insurgents' success is chiefly due to their superiority in the air, it is claimed. The fall of Navalperal may open the way to Madrid through El Escorial, but it is understood the Government intends to defend this sector stoutly.

Meanwhile, rebel broadcasts from Seville report that planes have bombed the Government city of Malaga inflicting considerable damage.

WHEAT CYCLE WHEEL

Turns Full Circle

London, Oct. 9. The wheel of the wheat cycle in fact has almost turned a full circle, is the conclusion arrived at by the "Economist" in an analysis of the world wheat position.

After reviewing at length the requirements of importing countries and exportable supplies in 1936-37, the article points out that the margin between the two is likely to be very small, hence the exportable carryover at the end of the current season will be negligible.

The tendency of prices during the winter therefore is likely to be firm and with practically no stocks to draw upon in 1937-38, only a bumper crop that season will suffice to prevent the steep upward trend of next summer.

Mr. G. S. Ford appeared for the defendant, and Insp. W. R. Chester Woods prosecuted.

Dr. Ng, of the Kowloon Hospital, was the first witness called, and he said that he examined the girl. She had been interfered with recently, witness opined.

Mr. Ford: Did you examine her thoroughly?—Yes.

Were there any bruises or scratches on her back?—No. Insp. Chester Woods: Did you examine her back?—No. In the witness box, the complainant said that she was in the habit of bathing daily at Lai Chi Kok beach. She met the defendant there about a week before she was assaulted, when he wanted to teach her how to swim.

After that first meeting they saw each other daily at the beach.

WENT TO CINEMA

One evening, he asked her to attend the show at the Alhambra, and, before entering the theatre, they deposited a basket at a nearby tea house.

He left a piece of paper with his name and Regiment inscribed on it inside the basket and they re-claimed it after the show.

From the Alhambra Theatre they walked to a friend's house, 115, Fa Yuen Street.

On the day in question, September 28, she accompanied him on a walk up the adjoining hillside. She was in her bathing suit, and he was dressed in khaki shorts with a white shirt.

CONTEMPLATED SUICIDE

She said that she tried to repulse his advances but he finally succeeded in seducing her. She contemplated suicide, but he prevented her, and carried her down to the beach.

Finally, she went to the Sham Shui Po Police Station, and reported the matter.

Mr. Ford: Do you remember the first time that you met the defendant?—Yes, it was about September 20 at Lai Chi Kok beach.

Wasn't it about September 17?—I can't remember.

Was defendant with others at Lai Chi Kok beach?—Yes.

Was he always with the same people?—Yes.

Did you approach him first?—No.

MET IN WATER

Where did you first meet him?—In the water.

Did he offer to teach you how to swim that day?—Yes, I knew a little already, but he gave me lessons.

How did he teach you?—By holding me by the chin.

Did any of the others teach you?—Yes.

And then you generally fooled around in the water?—No, I just splashed around.

Do you remember calling from the road to the defendant, and playing with his bicycle?—I didn't call to him, but I did play with his bicycle.

SCHOOL GIRL

Are you a school girl, or what do you do?—I am a school girl.

How was it that you had so much time to spend at Lai Chi Kok?—I am not attending school now.

What do you do now?—I stay at home and knit.

Were you always alone at Lai Chi Kok?—Nearly always. I went there with a friend once, named Wong.

How long have you known him?—I first met him at the swimming shed at Lai Chi Kok.

Did you meet defendant or Wong first?—Defendant.

Who gave you money for bus fare?—I got $20 from my mother.

Did you go to the Alhambra Theatre straight from the beach?—No.

Who arranged to go to the show?—The defendant.

On that day, did you have a Chinese programme of the Alhambra show?—Yes.

And you showed it to Lance-Corporal Jones and defendant?—Yes.

Did you ask Jones to take you to the theatre?—No, defendant asked me.

Did you show him the programme first?—No.

AN EPIDEMIC OF LIVER DISORDER

By Dr. Quignon Of The Faculty Of Medicine,
Paris

Just now I am kept very busy by an epidemic of "liver" disorders—
a great many people feeling "out of sorts," bilious, depressed and unable to enjoy their food. Undoubtedly the best remedy for an upset liver is provided by certain famous Continental Mineral Springs, but science has now made it possible for all liver sufferers to enjoy, in their homes, all the benefits of Continental Spa treatment, at little cost. By reproducing in crystalline form the essential principles of seven world renowned Spas, including those at Vichy,
Carlsbad, Aix-les-Bains and Marienbad, 'Alka Saltrates' provides what is probably the finest liver tonic and corrective known.
It is obtainable from all high class
dispensaries and stores.

To men and women who are feeling liverish and "out of sorts,"
and to those who are suffering from Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney trouble and High Blood Pressure I can recommend 'Alka Saltrates'
with confidence and I advise them
to start the treatment without delay.

RACING IN FRANCE

Best Horse Of
The Year

CLAIMS OF CORRIDA

Corrida's victory over Taj Akbar
at Ostend has naturally given great satisfaction in France, and there is much speculation as to which can be regarded as the best horse in Europe to-day. Corrida,
who is a half-sister of Goya II.,
the Gmcrack Stakes winner, has
this year triumphed in England,
France, and Belgium, and the only check she has received since she ran into form was at Munich, where the invincible
German mare, Neride, beat her,
but there was then evidence that
M. Boussac's mare was suffering from the effect of much travelling.

The question of supremacy is likely to be solved at Longchamp
on October 4, for the Prix de l'Arc
de Triomphe, worth over £6,000
this year, has attracted a most representative international entry.
Neride is not to run again,
but Germany can be represented
by Sturmvoegel, the winner of the Berlin Grand Prix, and supposed to be the second best horse across the Rhine, while Italian entries include Archidamia, a three-year-old filly who has gained a remarkable reputation in her own country. Among the English entries
are the Aga Khan's Taj Akbar,
Sind, and Baber Shah; Lord
Howard de Walden's Antonino;
the Duke of Norfolk's French-bred Bel Aethel, and Mr. J. A. de Rothschild's Esquemeling and Rondo.

KEEN RIVALS

There is no good French horse
missing from the list, and it is very probable that Mieuxcé once again will battle with his Grand Prix rivals, Sind and Alcaï.
Mieuxcé, who has had a couple of months' rest, will be out again in the French St. Leger at the reopening of Longchamp a week to-morrow. If he wins he will stamp himself as a remarkable colt, for only two horses have accomplished the triple feat of French Derby, Grand Prix and French St. Leger—Bolatard (1873)
and Perth (1899). Alcaï, who is undoubtedly one of the best colts
of his generation, redeemed himself for a bad display at Deauville
by winning the Prix de Bois-Roussel in impressive fashion at Chantilly on Wednesday, and this autumn he is likely to show that it was no fluke that took him into third place in the Grand Prix
behind Mieuxcé and Sind.

Comte de Rivaud's Gong, who was the best two-year-old colt in France last autumn, has been out of racing this year on account of a training ground accident in the spring. He is in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, however, and, as he is now approaching fitness may
run. It was largely to ride Gong
that Comte de Rivaud engaged W.
Johnstone as his jockey this year.
Next year Johnstone is going back to the brothers Wertheimer,
and he will also ride for Mr.
L. L. Lawrence, the Paris American film man who also races in England.

Racing to-morrow will again be at Chantilly. When the racing calendar was drawn up at the beginning of the year it was resolved to follow last year's precedent and replace one of Chantilly's
two autumn Sundays with a fix-ture at Longchamp. But as the French Oaks had to be run at Longchamp instead of Chantilly
in the Spring on account of the strikes, Chantilly is getting its Sunday back, and the 50,000 franc
Prix de Chantilly will be run there to-morrow. The race may give an opportunity to some good second-
division horse, such as Le Vizir,
to score. Mr. Esmond's Petit Jean ran so badly in the Deauville Grand Prix that he can hardly be expected to strike his form again
so soon.

SON FOR SIR JAMES JEANS

The birth of a son to Lady Jeans,
wife of Sir James Jeans, the scientist, was announced recently.
Lady Jeans before her marriage to Sir James, in September last year, was Fraulein Susi Hock, of Vienna.

She is an accomplished musician,
and it was while on a concert tour
in England in June last year that she met Sir James and—in her own words—"fell in love immediately."

Sir James is famous for his theories of the origin of the universe and his researches into the solar system.

CAPTAIN

"Almost Certain" To Lead Australia

Don Bradman was recently appointed a Test Selector. This is taken as an indication that he is almost certain to lead Australia
against England in the forthcoming series of Tests. Two other Selectors, V. A. Dwyer (New South Wales) and W. J. Johnson (Victoria), were appointed with Bradman.

The Australian team for the first Test will be chosen at the conclusion of the match between an Australian XI and M.C.C. which takes place at Sydney from November 20 to 24. The captain and vice-captain will be appointed by the Board of Control immediately
the team is known.

The Australian players in the forthcoming Test matches will receive £30 per match, plus 25s.

GOVERNOR WHO CAME TO ENGLAND

A visit to England to attend the wedding of his daughter, and the holiday taken afterwards by Sir
Shenton Thomas, Governor of the Straits Settlements and High Commissioner for the Malay States,
have led to a lively controversy.

Sir Shenton is criticised firstly because he took a vacation of four months after only 18 months' service, and secondly because the final stage of his voyage back was made in the luxurious official yacht Sea Belle II, which was re-commissioned specially to take him
from Penang to Singapore.

Sir Shenton attended the wedding of his daughter Bridget and Captain J. L. Lofting, of the Royal Fusiliers, at St. Margaret's, Westminster.

Afterwards he toured Britain
and did some trout fishing in Somerset. After consulting the Colonial Office, he left by the Blue Funnel liner Sarpedon.

"NOT JUSTIFIED"

The Singapore "Free Press"
voices the opinions of the critics
by saying that "the Governor's absence from the colony for such a prolonged period does not seem justified by established practice,
and the manner of his return by
the Sea Belle II does not improve the occasion."

The newspaper, quoted by British United Press, says that the use of the yacht "is not calculated to make the best impression on public opinion" and that he must
"take the consequences of hanging on to an embarrassing luxury."
Officially the reason for Sir Shenton's use of the yacht was that he was enabled to return
earlier, but it is pointed out that he arrived only one day earlier than if he had continued in the Sarpedon.

£1,200 COST

The cost of commissioning the yacht is put at £1,200.

"The money spent would have paid at least for a passage all the way from England by air, thus enabling Sir Shenton to have his full time at home and give Malaya
the benefit of several weeks' extra service," adds the "Free Press."
Sir Shenton has the support of many local people, however.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

The milling capacity of the Benguet Consolidated Mining Company will be increased to 1,000 tons a day within a few months. A. F. Dugleby, vice-president and head of the technical staff of the Benguet interests, announced recently.

Benguet now handle about 800 tons a day; the increase in capacity will be made gradually, so that there will be no interruption of operations. Some of the equipment has already been ordered. Mr. Dugleby said.

MORE LOW GRADE

The higher capacity will enable the Benguet plant to treat more low grade ore; it will increase the total production somewhat, of course, but purpose of the expansion is to make possible the milling of a higher tonnage of low grade.

Mr. Dugleby stated that operations so far this month had been normal at all the plants under Benguet management. The production of Cal Hori is expected to be higher for the month, while that of Benguet Consolidated, Balatores, and Ipo will be substantially the same, he said.

OLDEST PLANT

Benguet Consolidated is the oldest operating plant in the Philippines; the company was organized in 1903, started production in 1905, and paid its first dividends in 1916. Its annual production has grown steadily; in 1931 it was P3,332,350; in 1932, P4,200,286; in 1933, P3,381,838; in 1934, P7,943,428; in 1935, P8,639,667; and for the first half of 1936 was P4,596,815.

Upon the success of Benguet Consolidated and its associated company Balatores, in which Benguet has a 50 per cent interest, the growth of Philippine mining has been built. It was not until Benguet Consolidated demonstrated the practicability of mining here, through years of work and the expenditure of millions of pesos, that the industry started to expand to its present prosperous status.

When the new capacity of the Benguet plant has been reached, the company will be the third largest in the Philippines as to tonnage handled, Masbate Consolidated, with a capacity of 2,000 tons daily, and Balatores, with 1,200-ton plant, being the leaders. Benguet will probably be second only to Balatores as far as gold production is concerned, however, the Masbate Consolidated ore being lower in grade than that of the Antamok mine.

COLLAPSE
OF STAND
Excitement
At Aquatic
MeetingMANY STUDENTS
GET "DUCKING"

An unprecedented and totally unexpected "event" took place in the Inter-School Sports which were held yesterday at the Victoria Recreation Club swimming bath, when a portion of the stand overlooking the pool, collapsed and precipitated about 50 school boys into the pool.

This occurred whilst the last event of the day was being contested—the 200 yards relay. Excitement ran high and spectators on the stand overlooking the length of the pool rose to their feet and crowded to the lower verandah overhanging the pool. The lads standing there shouted and stamped their encouragement, and the first swimmers of the relay had barely reached the end of the first 25 yards, when the "verandah" portion of the stand collapsed under the strain, and about 50 lads were thrown into the water.

Pandemonium reigned, and the race was abandoned, as it was impossible to complete the race. Several experienced swimmers at once went to the rescue of the struggling mass of humanity, and conspicuous in this respect were Elmer Roca, Pereira and Chan Shek Pui, two Interporters. They went in fully clothed and did a lion's share in the rescue attempts. Other civilians on the spot also helped.

Mr W. L. Clark, who was an interested spectator until the collapse, ushered the boys on the wrecked stand, towards the entrance of the V.R.C., and this more greatly facilitated the efforts of the rescuers.

Only one lad suffered from his immersion. He was fortunately brought to the side of the bath through the efforts of Chan Shek Pui, and with the aid of Mr. Clark, was revived following artificial respiration.

There was a humorous aspect to the whole incident, when many swimmers volunteered to dive for a great assortment of paraphernalia, from the bottom of the bath. Baskets, spectacles, books, etc.—were all recovered.

Late in the evening, the pool was emptied and even then, employees of the V.R.C. were retrieving articles from the bottom of the pool.

A high standard was witnessed in the actual swimming events. Wah Yan College won the Inter-School Cup, with St. Joseph's College, occupying second place.

DREAM COME

cause the winners of public competitions are usually lacking in those endearing qualities of naturalness and modesty which constitute such conspicuous characteristics in Miss McLeod.

"THRILLED!"
Yes, she admitted she was thrilled. "That's the usual thing to say, I believe," she smiled, "but I really mean it. Some people regard travel as a bit of a bore; they take it in their stride, so to speak. Well, I'm not that way. I'd always dreamed of travelling, and this wonderful opportunity gave me my chance—and I'm loving every minute of it."

One refrained from asking her what she thought of Hong Kong. She had barely had time to look out of her hotel windows, but as the "Change" had steamed slowly up the harbour she had watched the moving panorama with sheer delight.

"Oh, I'm going to have such a good look round," she remarked with kindling eyes. "So many people so variously attired; such noise and yet such orderliness. There seems such activity, and it's good to see so many smiling faces."

GOLD RUSH
Manila was Miss McLeod's first big thrill. She stood amongst the frenzied crowd in the Arcade where the dealings in gold-mining shares had reached the pitch of hysteria. "I'd been allowed to take a chance I feel sure I'd have made money."

However, she didn't take that chance, and she still has the money—but also her regrets.

CIRCLING GLOBE FOR 17TH TIME

to Rio's. "It's the finest in the world, even better than that magnificent Sydney harbour which I have visited several times. I was particularly struck with the hustle and bustle in this harbour of yours."

TRAVELLED SINCE 1919

Since 1919, Mr. Brittlebank, who is a wealthy retired business man of Charleston, South Carolina, has been circling the globe on the Dollar Steamship Company's liners. Almost a part of the organization, he has sailed in every one of the 19 Dollar boats, and covered one-quarter of his lifetime's 2,000,000 odd miles of sightseeing with them.

Now aboard the President Polk on his 17th world cruise, lively and jovial Mr. Brittlebank claims he's good for 40 more. At the end of his present trip he will stay in New York for the opera season, as his annual custom, then travel down to Charleston in time to celebrate his 78th birthday next April 11, and late next spring pack his things for another junket around the globe.

"KEEPS ME YOUNG"

"It keeps me young," he said, "seeing new people and new countries, swimming and dancing, going to concerts, art exhibits, fairs and so forth. We've had a good time on this last trip."

He traces it all back to 1865, when he made his first trip away from home: a rail journey with his mother from Terre Haute, Indiana, to his parents' home in Virginia.

A quarter of a century ago the retired broker, appeared in Shanghai in time to see the birth of the Republic. It is a coincidence that he will be here to-day for the Chinese celebration of the "Double Tenth." In those far off days, said Mr. Brittlebank, travelling was more or less haphazard, but a general improvement was noticed when in 1919 he travelled with the Dollar Steamship Line.

In 1899 in Constantinople, Mr. Brittlebank saw Abdul Hamid surrounded by 25,000 of his troops, ready for the impending strife. During the Spanish-American War he was in Cuba, and in 1904 watched the Czar mobilize his men for the war with Japan. In 1912 he spotted one of the numerous battles in the Balkans, leaving in time to turn up in Peru at the time of the revolution there. The troops of General Diaz marched past Mr. Brittlebank's hotel window in Mexico City. The outbreak of the World War found him in Hamburg, ready to leave for, of all places, Iceland. He saw the German troops mustered, and a few weeks later watched the British Tommies mobilize.

WORLD MORE PROSPEROUS
The entire world was becoming a more prosperous and cheerful place in which to live, stated this world traveller.

"The pickup is general," he said. "More people than ever are travelling, prices are up again and more people everywhere seem to be more prosperous and to spend more money. I noticed the greatest pickup of all in China, where there is more room for improvements."

DIPHTHERIA

One case of diphtheria was notified to the local Health authorities on Thursday.

LIKES THE STAGE

Although Miss McLeod is by no means "stage struck" yet she is keenly interested in amateur theatricals. She is a playing member of a distinguished amateur theatrical organization in Melbourne known as The Little Theatre, and last month she played the part of Lily Shaw in Reid's "Sir Charles the First."

She confessed that a professional stage career did appeal to her, but added, "I have a good job in Melbourne, and that is safer than the stage."

Very practical and inclined to be rather retiring, Miss McLeod is one of those who will have her "look see" in a quiet and sensible manner. Australians here will be happy that she won that prize. Hong Kong will benefit by her visit through the favourable publicity Miss McLeod will give the Colony when she returns "down under."

UNIVERSITY

element student to get his degree at the H.K. University after it was open to all nationalities, and he has many tales to relate of his early associations with Dr. Sun at the University.

One of Dr. Souza's most cherished memories of his friendship with the First President of the Chinese Republic was when the latter paid a visit to Hong Kong following a world tour which embraced the British Isles, Europe and the United States of America.

POIGNANT STORY

Dr. Souza, together with Mr. Cox, of Messrs. Shawan, Tones and Co., transported Dr. Sun on board the s.s. Siberia (an American Mail Line vessel), the trip across the harbour being made on the steam-launch, Lee Cheong.

The most poignant part of the story is this: Dr. Souza learnt that Dr. Paul Kreig, who had formerly been a lecturer in obstetrics and gynaecology in the Old College of Medicine in Chinese at the H.K. University, was attending Dr. Sun at the latter's death bed, so he wrote to Dr. Kreig inquiring after the sick President's health.

This letter was read to Dr. Sun (and as Dr. Kreig later reported) the dying President of China, revived and gained in spirits as he heard the letter written by Dr. Souza.

Dr. Sun's dying words related to the old times he had experienced as a student of the H.K. University—he breathed his last thinking of the University.

LETTER READ

A letter subsequently received by Dr. Souza from Dr. Kreig informing the former of the touching death bed scene, was for two years read at the annual ceremony of the Double Tenth which was held in the Great Hall of the University. The recipient of this letter was requested to perform this unique ceremony by the authorities.

So famous did this letter become, that it was passed from hand to hand. It eventually was mislaid and has never, to this day, been traced.

The annual Union Ball, which is usually celebrated on the Double Ten, has this year been postponed to the following Saturday when the anniversary of the Hong Kong University Student Union will be commemorated.

China's Tariff
Policy Inspires
Confidence

It has made a complete survey of the possibilities of the market for Australian wool in China and the possibilities of manufacturing woollen goods there.

The committee's report states that despite the considerable quantities of woollen materials imported into China, few attempts have been made by Chinese factories to supply the demand, although China has great potentialities as a wool-manufacturing and wool-consuming country. In 1935-36 China imported only 75 bales of Australian wool, while imports of wool fabrics alone were valued at more than $1,000,000 sterling.
